

July 16, 2011 Day-Long Music Workshops

Music Time Deluxe (Music notation software) and Audacity (Recording software)

LOCATION: Famous Old Time Music Company, 20322 SR 33, Wapakoneta, OH 45895

WORKSHOP TITLE: Your Computer ... MUSIC TIME DELUXE – From Ear to Paper (Joyce Harrison, Instructor)

DATE: Saturday – July 16, 2011 TIME: 9:30am (Registration) 10:00am to 4:00pm (Sessions)
 COST: $35 Register using this form. Space is limited. Advance registration is necessary.

We will walk through the process of finding a song and putting it into music notation using the Music Time Deluxe program. If you would like to present your favorite tunes in an organized and professional looking format, this is the class for you.

MusicTime Deluxe is an affordable software program that allows us to display a tune as:

- standard notation for melody players including hammered dulcimer and pennywhistle,
- tablature for mountain dulcimer (3 or 4 lines)
- chords for guitar or any backup instrument
- lyric lines for up to five verses

We'll be able to transpose tunes to the singable or playable key that you desire.

If you have Music Time Deluxe on your Notebook computer, bring it along. There is a free demo that can be downloaded on your computer to give the program a test drive. In conducting the session, I'll be demonstrating using a projector and screen. You will receive handouts including step-by-step instructions. Reference sheet will be provided.

Lunch: "Sacks or Subs" Bring your own sack lunch or join us for subs and drink for $5.

WORKSHOP TITLE: Your Computer as a Valuable Music & Recording Tool (Shari Wolf, Instructor)

DATE: Saturday – July 16, 2011 TIME: 9:30am (Registration) 10:00am to 4:00pm (Sessions)
 COST: $35 Register using this form. Space is limited. Advance registration is necessary.

We'll explore Audacity, a free open source software program for all types of recording needs and some applications.

- ❖ Digitizing cassettes and LP records and preserving on CDs
 - transfer the cassettes or LPs to the computer using Audacity and equipment that you might already have.
 - inserting tracking on CDs
 - converting from Audacity files to WAV files for CD and burning CDs
 - converting from WAV files to MP3 files for I-pods
- ❖ Capturing and digitizing uncopyrighted (public domain) music from the Internet
- ❖ Recording your own music onto the computer
 - using equipment you already have; purchasing equipment especially for your project
 - special Audacity settings for live recording
 - recording basics; simple multi-tracking; simple mixing basics and the steps to an end product on CD

This workshop is designed for the novice computer user who wants to learn more about the computer as a music tool. I'll use an LCD projector for easy viewing of my work as well as provide handouts for your future use. There will be samples of equipment, and mics and cords. Bring your Notebook computer if you'd like, but it's not required for the session. I'll be using a notebook PC running Windows XP. Audacity also has versions and updates for Windows Vista/Windows 7 and MAC OS X 10.6.

Lunch: "Sacks or Subs" Bring your own sack lunch or join us for subs and drink for $5.
